Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. Carefully consider the Fund's investment objectives, risk factors, charges, and expenses before investing. This and other information can be found in the Fund's summary prospectus, which may be obtained by visiting www.delawareinvestments.com/literature or calling 800 523-1918. Investors should read the summary prospectus carefully before investing.

The S&P/LSTA (Loan Syndications and Trading Association) Leveraged Loan Index is a broad index designed to reflect the market-value-weighted performance of U.S. dollar-denominated institutional leveraged loans.

The BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. Dollar 3-Month Deposit Offered Rate Constant Maturity Index (formerly the BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. Dollar 3-Month LIBOR Constant Maturity Index) represents the London interbank offered rate (LIBOR) with a constant 3-month average maturity. LIBOR, published by the British Bankers' Association, is a composite of the rates of interest at which banks borrow from one another in the London market, and it is a widely used benchmark for short-term interest rates.

Index performance returns do not reflect and management fees, transaction costs, or expenses. Indices are unmanaged, and one cannot invest directly in an index.

Fixed income securities and bond funds can lose value, and investors can lose principal, as interest rates rise. They also may be affected by economic conditions that hinder an issuer's ability to make interest and principal payments on its debt. The Fund may also be subject to prepayment risk, the risk that the principal of a fixed income security that is held by the Fund may be prepaid prior to maturity, potentially forcing the Fund to reinvest that money at a lower interest rate.

High yielding, noninvestment grade bonds (junk bonds) involve higher risk than investment grade bonds. The high yield secondary market is particularly susceptible to liquidity problems when institutional investors, such as mutual funds and certain other financial institutions, temporarily stop buying bonds for regulatory, financial, or other reasons. In addition, a less liquid secondary market makes it more difficult for the Fund to obtain precise valuations of the high yield securities in its portfolio.

International investments are subject to risks not ordinarily associated with U.S. investments, including capital loss from unfavorable fluctuation in currency values, differences in generally accepted accounting principles, or economic or political instability in other nations. Investing in emerging markets can be riskier than investing in established foreign markets due to increased volatility and lower trading volume.

The Fund may invest in derivatives, which may involve additional expenses and are subject to risk, including the risk that an underlying security or securities index moves in the opposite direction from what the portfolio manager anticipated. A derivative transaction depends upon the counterparties' ability to fulfill their contractual obligations.

Because the Fund may invest in bank loans and other direct indebtedness, it is subject to the risk that the Fund will not receive payment of principal, interest, and other amounts due in connection with these investments, which primarily depend on the financial condition of the borrower and the lending institution.

Supplement to the Fund's Summary and Statutory Prospectuses dated November 28, 2016

Effective on or about Jan. 31, 2017 ("Effective Date"), the investment strategies for Delaware Diversified Floating Rate Fund will change and the Fund will be repositioned as a bank loan focused fund (the "Repositioning"). In connection with this Repositioning, the Fund's name will change to Delaware Floating Rate Fund.

The Repositioning will result in higher portfolio turnover in the near term, as the portfolio management team purchases and sells securities to accommodate the Repositioning. This higher portfolio turnover may cause the Fund to realize capital gains and is likely to cause the Fund to incur transaction costs. You should consult your financial advisor and tax advisor about the potential impact that will result from the Repositioning.

The Repositioning will not result in a change to the Fund's management fees and the average portfolio duration for the Fund will continue to generally not exceed one year.

The following is a summary of certain changes that will be made on the Effective Date as a result of the Repositioning:
